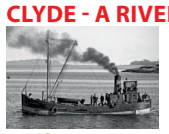
CLYDE - A RIVER RECOVERY



Scottish Natural Heritage
Dualchas Nàdair na h-Alba

Join us for a night of music inspired by the Clyde. Mary Ann Kennedy and special guests, including long-time musical friends and young people from the area, take us on a unique journey marking the changing face of one of Scotland's most famous rivers. From the cotton and tobacco trades to the legendary shipyards and modern-day businesses on her banks and shores, the Clyde's development didn't come without its impact on the natural environment. Scotland's land, sea and shores are ever-changing, both naturally and in response to the way we use them. Little by little, the river is regenerating – the Clyde is recovering. Salmon, redshank, basking shark and porpoise are all an indication of this reawakening. Traditional song and music, native Gaelic from the area, technology and original words and music combine in this special night to celebrate the Clyde's multi-faceted environment. This event is sponsored by Scottish Natural Heritage.
The Clyde is a living, lively place for people and nature. Let's celebrate her new lease of life!

CLUAIDH - ÙRACHADH NA H-AIBHNE
Thigibh cuide rinn gu cùirm ceòlmhor Chluaidh. Bidh Màiri Anna NicUalraig agus a còmhlan de shàr luchd-ciùil 's òigridh na sgìre gar toirt air sgrìob iongantach a sheallas atharrachadh slighe-uisge cho iomraiteach 's a th' ann an an Alba.
Bho mhalairt a' chotain 's an tombaca gu na gàrraidhean-luingeis ainmeil agus na gnìomhachasan ùra a stèidhicheadh air a bruthaichean, cha b' ann gun bhuaidh air an àrainneachd nàdarra a bha leasachadh Chluaidh.
Bidh talamh, cladaichean agus muir na h-Alba ag atharrachadh, an dà chuid gu nàdarra agus mar thoradh air mar a bhios sinn gan cleachdadh. Mean air mhean, tha piseach às ùr air tighinn air a' Chluaidh agus tha i a' leigheas. Tha am bradan, am maor-cladaich, cearbanaich agus peileagan uile nan comharra air an ath-bheothachadh seo.
Agus eadar ceòl is òrain an dualchais, dualchainnt na sgìre, teicneòlas agus fuinn is briathran ùra, thathas a' dèanamh luaidh orra seo is ioma nì eile anns an oidhche àraid seo.
'S e àite beò is beothail do dhaoine 's nàdar a th' anns a' Chluaidh. Guma mealamaid an t-ùrachadh! Air a mhaoineachadh le Dualchas Nàdair na h-Alba.
