WORKSHOP WITH ROSS CHRISTIE GAELIC & PEATLANDS

Scotland has around two million hectares of peatlands. When they are in good condition, peatlands support many aspects of our lives. They reduce the effects of climate change by storing carbon, support clean drinking water and reduce flood risks. Peatlands also offer a unique home for wildlife, and they are vital to farming, crofting, recreation and tourism.

There is a wealth of Gaelic language and heritage intertwined with these special places. Join Ross Christie to explore Gaelic names and vocabulary for landscape features, plants and animals, along with a look at our peatland's cultural prominence.

Duine ag atharrachadh gu feannag, pàistean air an goid agus cnoc neamh - tha iad uile rin lorg ann an Ursgeul na Feannaig. Bu toil le Romy NicMhìcheil agus Marie Trestrail am fiolm goirid, ioma-madhan aca de Ursgeul na Feannaig a shealltainn dhuibh. Le guthan, fuaim is bhidio à Ìle còmhla ri beòthachaidhean, tha am fiolm seo a' leantainn feannag/duine draoidheil agus a bhean fhad 's a tha i a' feuchainn ri lorg a-rithist. Le cuideachadh bho choimhearsnachd Ìle, tha am fiolm seo ag ath-innse sgeulachd a chaidh a chlàradh ann an Ìle anns na 1800an.

Men that transform into hoodie crows, disappearing babies and the hill of poison are found in Ursgeul na Feannaig or The Tale of the Hoodie. Romy NicMhicheil and Marie Trestrail present their short, multi-medium film adapting a Gaelic folktale, titled Uair a Bha Siud: Ursgeul na Feannaig or Once Upon a Time: The Tale of the Hoodie. Combining live-action footage of landscapes on Islay, voices from Islay and original animation, this film follows a mystical hoodie crow/man and his wife as she journeys to find him again. Through working with the local community this film retells a story which was recorded on Islay in the 1800s.

7pm-8.30pm

Mackintosh Tea Rooms, 217 Sauchiehall Street, G2 3EX

Bidh Comann Gàidhlig Ghlaschu a' cur am prògram 26/27 aca air bhog leis an tachartas shònraichte seo. Bho Uibhist a Deas, tha sàr-bhàrd, sgrìobhadair, is cleasaiche Aonghas Phàdraig Caimbeul ag ath-leughadh òraid bho bheul-aithrisiche Dòmhnall Eairdsidh Dòmhnallach a chuala e ann an 1992 le leth-bhreac a fhuair e bho Dhòmhnall Eairdsidh fhèin. Tha an òraid a sgrùdadh an dàimh eadar seanchas agus litreachas, is tha e cho buntainneach an latha an-diugh 's a bha e a-riamh. Bidh e air a' leughadh sa Ghàidhlig le an eadar-theangachadh a sgrìobh Dòmhnall Eairdsidh dha sa Bheurla ri fhaighinn à beul a chèile.

Comann Gàidhlig Ghlaschu launches its 26/27 programme with this special event. From the island of South Uist, award-winning poet, novelist and actor Angus Peter Campbell will re-read a talk by folklorist Donald Archie MacDonald that he first heard in 1992, a copy of which was given to him after the event by Donald Archie himself. The talk delves into the relationship between storytelling and literature and is as relevant now as it was then. It will be read in Gaelic, with Donald Archie's own English translation provided simultaneously.

Nicolson's Traditions of Skye Coinneach MacIlleathain Book Launch

2pm

Lecture Theatre, City of Glasgow College

Nicolson's Traditions of Skye - Is e ath-dheasachadh air seann-eachdraidh chlasaigeach an Eilein Sgitheanach, History of Skye, sgrìobhte le bràthair seanmhair Choinnich, Ailig MacNeacail, a th' anns an leabhar seo. Thàinig Coinneach gu bhith mothachail air a luach gu h-iomlan nuair a bha e a' dèanamh rannsachaidh airson an leabhar-iùil beag air an Eilean Sgitheanach a sgrìobh e, An t-Eilean. Tha an teacsa air a ghiorrachadh le caibideil a bharrachd agus notaichean mìneachaidh. Tha e loma-làn dhealbhan agus sgead-dhealbhan àlainn.

Nicolson's Traditions of Skye is a revised edition of the classic History of Skye, originally written by Coinneach's great-uncle, Alexander Nicolson. While researching his own guidebook to Skye, An t-Eilean, Coinneach came to fully appreciate the value of this fascinating work. The original text has been abridged and enhanced with an additional chapter and explanatory notes, and the book is beautifully illustrated with photographs and artwork.

Fiolm Goirid Beura

4pm-5pm

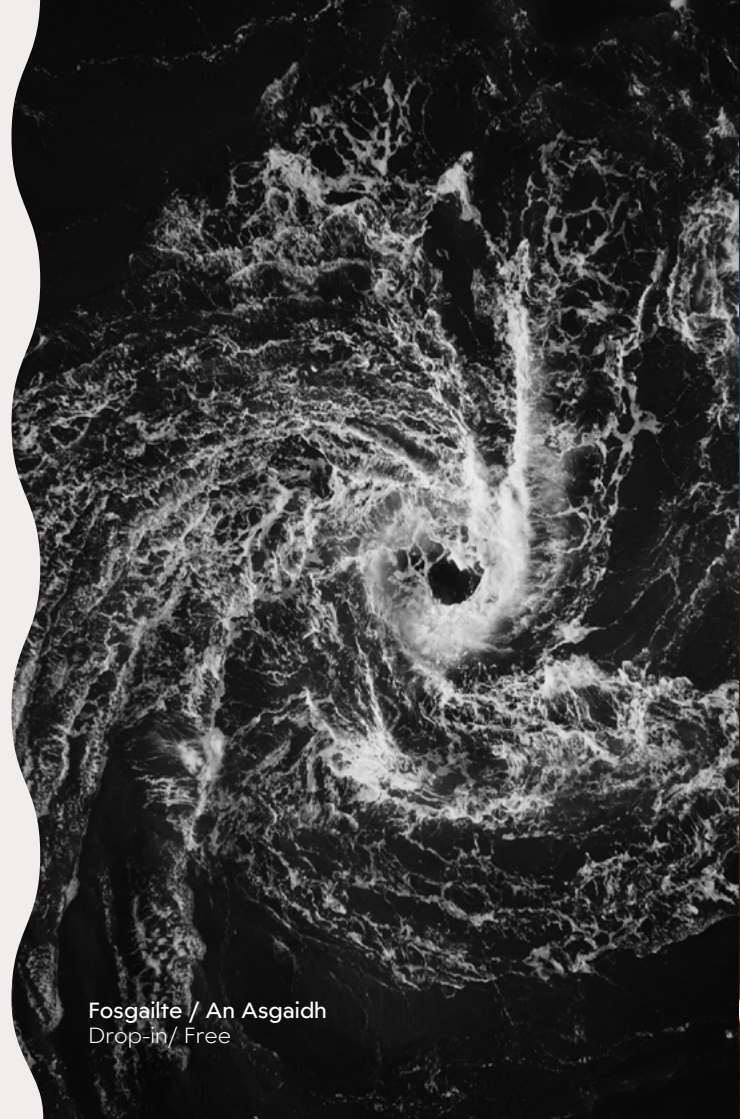

Edward House, 199 Sauchiehall Street G2 3EX

'S e pròiseact ealain ùr Gàidhlig a th' ann am 'Beura' a tha a' toirt ceòl, Fiolm agus bàrdachd còmhla gus sgeulachd na Caillich innse airson an latha an-diugh. Le dealbhan cumhachdach den chruth-tìre leis an filmeadair à Arcaibh, Gregor D. Sinclair, agus pìos ciùil ùr airson còmhlan teudan leis an sgrìobhaiche-ciùil às a' Ghàidhealtachd, Lisa Robertson, a bharrachd air bàrdachd agus clàraidhean de nàdar, tha 'Beura' na thachartas beò gun samhail.

The tale of the Cailleach Bheur, Celtic goddess of nature, storms and winter, is well known to many in the Gàidhealtachd. She disappeared long ago leaving us only with her song – a sad, cautionary tale. 'Beura' is a new Gaelic arts project bringing music, film and verse together to reimagine the Cailleach's story for the modern era. Combining the intense landscape visuals of Orcadian filmmaker Gregor D. Sinclair with a new musical work for string ensemble by celebrated Highland composer Lisa Robertson, as well as poetry and field recordings, 'Beura' is a live experience unlike any other.

CHILDREN'S CLASSIC CONCERTS

Children's Classic Concerts' latest concert film, The Story Collector: How the Seasons Came to Be, is inspired by stories gathered from children across Scotland. Blending music and storytelling, the film explores themes of identity, belonging and self-expression as it follows the four sisters of the seasons on a journey around the world. Along the way, they discover one another—and, ultimately, who they truly are. Featuring an original score by Aileen Sweeney, original story told by Daniel Serridge, and retold in Gaelic by Claire Frances MacNeil, the film celebrates the power of imagination, culture and connection.

Oidhche de cheòl ùr. Bhon Eilean Sgitheanach, tha dithis, Ciorstaidh Pheutan agus Lana Pheutan air a thighinn còmhla gus ceòl ùr a chruthachadh broснаichte le an cànan agus an cultar, ach mar nach cuala tu roimhe, gu tùr neo-leisgeulach agus làn aoibhneas. Tha guth Lana air a neartachadh le Clàrsach Ciorstaidh, a' cruthachadh fuaim a bhios gad fhàgail ag iarraidh barrachd. A' beachdachadh air gaol, call, fearg is miannachd anns an dà theanga, tha an cupal seo làn fealla-dhà agus spionnadh.

A NIGHT OF NEW MUSIC

Hailing from the Isle of Skye, Gàidhlig speakers Ciorstaidh Beaton and Lana Pheutan have joined forces to create new music inspired by their language and culture, but not as you've heard them before, entirely unapologetic and full of fun. Lana's vocals are bolstered by Ciorstaidh's clàrsach, making for an irresistible sound. Touching on love, loss, rage and desire in both tongues, their unique experiences shape this playful and dynamic duo.
